Lac la Biche Man Injured In Unloading Accident

LAC LA BICHE — Forty-four year old Rene Langevin was badly injured in an accident which took place on the loading platform of the N.A.R. station here Thursday, November 20. Langevin and two other men, Ted Mackriss and Leonel Langevin were unloading an automobile from an auto-car for Mr. Alex Tominiuk. The unit fell down heavily, swaying to the side and pinning the workman under it. Langevin suffered a broken left ankle and badly crushed right knee.

The injured man was rushed to the St. Catherine's Hospital where immediate attention was administered by Dr. Brinsmead. On Nov. 25 it was decided to transfer Mr. Langevin to the General Hospital in Edmonton due to the seriousness of his injuries. The patient left by private car from Lac la Biche.

Pilot Lands Plane, Gas Exhausted

LAC LA BICHE — Pilot Fred Waugh, after landing a light Stinson plane here Tues., Nov. 25, said "That one was too close for comfort." One gas tank had been emptied while still on the other side of the lake. He landed the plane at the airport here and was taxiing off the field when the other tank blew. Waugh and his passenger, Mr. H. P. Rock of the Sun Oil Company were forced to get out and push the plane the remainder of the way.

The plane, property of the Sun Oil Company, had taken off from Lac la Biche earlier in the day bound for Bitumont. They were in radio contact with the Lac la Biche Forestry Radio set-up during most of the flight. However, signals changed when they were nearing Bitumont and they were unable to read Lac la Biche, nor were they able to read Bitumont who was also standing by the radio. They were near Ft. McMurray when they ran into bad flying weather and heavy soup and decided to turn back to Lac la Biche. Although Bitumont was radioing them that landing conditions were good there, they were unable to read and so returned to Lac la Biche. They had been in the air a short while over the time limit for the gasoline carried and were able to land just in the nick of time.

WINS WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP—Topping 164 entries from the United States, United Kingdom and Canada, Ronald Leonhardt, 19, of Drumheller, Alta., has been awarded the Canadian National Railways Trophy, emblematic of the world wheat championship. Ronald received the honor at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Toronto, for his sample of Marquis wheat. J. A. Argo, right, assistant traffic vice-president, Canadian National Railways, Montreal, presents the trophy, a silver tray and one hundred dollars and congratulates him above. Ronald is the third junior farmer from that area to win the trophy in successive years.

Early Pioneer of Oil Sands Visits in McMurray-Waterways

Mr. T. Draper, one of the early pioneers of the district spent some time in McMurray-Waterways last week. The original site of Waterways, the flag station Draper was named after him.

Mr. Draper was and is one of the pioneers still interested in the McMurray tar sands or oil sand. He has had the tar sand used in many places in the United States and Canada—the station platform at Jasper, Alta., Cleveland, and many other places, as well as walkways and driveways—the driveways around the parliament buildings, Edmonton are made from the tar sands of McMurray. Many of the places where Mr. Draper had the tar sand used have been in constant use for the past quarter of a century and are still in excellent condition. Could be an excellent idea if followed through today for many roads and sidewalks.

Edmonton Banquet Really Enjoyed

FREEDOM — An enjoyable evening was had by Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Hauch, Mr. and Mrs. Aino Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Erven Schneider, when they attended the banquet in the King Edward Hotel, Edmonton, given by Messrs. Edgar and Newton Eliassons of Wetaskiwin, contractors building the new wide highway from Rosington to Barrhead corner.

After supper a film was shown of the men at work building the highway. Speeches were given by the day and night foremen, Henry Makojka and Charlie Turner. The evening continued with a variety of songs and musical arrangements. All the guests went to a

Another Boost To Skating Rink Fund

LAC LA BICHE — On Friday, November 28, a dance and floor show, sponsored by the Lac la Biche High School Students' Union, was held in the Memorial Hall. All proceeds from this event were added to the skating rink fund.

The evening got off to a bad start when the orchestra which had been engaged failed to show up. However a pick-up orchestra was obtained and dancing got under way according to program.

During lunch hour, patrons were treated to a highly entertaining floor show, in which various students of the Lac la Biche High School volunteered their talents. There were boy and girl tap dance routines, a majorette, comical skits and jokes. The outstanding feature which really had the audience in stitches was a fashion show of latest styles in women's clothing. This performance was neatly carried out by a group of Lac la Biche High School boys and their teacher, Mr. Al Slinger, who paraded his six foot four frame draped in a beautiful strapless number created for star light and dancing. This act ended in thunderous applause and screams for more. The audience was disappointed however as time ran short and dancing once more continued.

For the first time since 1946 business for co-operatives was down in Canada during 1951. Figures show that $1,016,550,971 in total business was done by 2,768 associations. This was a drop of $22,270,000 from 1950.

IMPERIAL BANK DEPOSITS RISE TO ALL-TIME HIGH

Assets, Loans Show Marked Increase; Shareholders Addressed By President And General Manager

Assets of Imperial Bank of Canada and deposits entrusted to the bank reached the highest levels in their history, shareholders were told at the 78th annual meeting of the bank in Toronto on Wednesday, November 26. Loans and profits during the year showed a marked increase over the previous year.

Mr. I. K. Johnston, President, in his review of economic conditions, said that perhaps the greatest achievement of the past year had been the advantage we have gained over inflationary forces.

A considerable rise in personal savings and heavy imports had contributed to the reversal of the dangerous inflationary trend, but consumer spending and consumer credit were both increasing and continued vigilance in the anti-inflation struggle was still necessary.

Mr. Johnston said that the expansion of Canadian productive capacity in 1952 appeared likely to be even greater than the unprecedented forecasts made by business earlier this year. Although American capital contributed to this high level of investment, Canadians still provided the main source of investment capital. For this reason, encouragement of saving by Canadians should be a major aim of economic policy and to accomplish this it was to be hoped that the rising tax revenues resulting from economic growth, combined with exacting scrutiny over government expenditures, would soon permit substantial tax reductions.

During the past year, Mr. Johnston said, the excess of exports over imports had steadily increased, in sharp contrast to the situation last year. At the same time, the value of the Canadian dollar has risen on exchange markets, as a result of the abundant supply of American funds on the Canadian market.

Mr. Johnston pointed out, however, that the premium on Canadian funds placed a hardship on exporters, making it desirable to limit exchange fluctuations before they become extreme. This could be done by judicious management of gold and exchange reserves without resort to exchange control, and it was to be hoped that the Canadian dollar would not be allowed to rise much beyond recent levels.

The uncertainty of markets for some Canadian experts made it imperative to enlarge the domestic market. The ease with which recent immigrants had been able to achieve the high earnings which suggested that every effort should be made to increase Canada's population through immigration.

"Enormous undertakings now in progress will give us more iron, ore, steel, nickel, copper, aluminum, oil, rubber, chemicals and uranium", Mr. Johnston said. "They mean immense sums of money distributed in wages and for goods and more jobs than we have men to fill. The tasks before us demand the maximum output of which the growing Canadian working force is capable. I would like to give this all the emphasis possible. Increased production will keep our economy in balance, keep us from pricing our

Mr. L. S. Mackersy, Vice-President and General Manager, commenting on the Bank's annual statement, pointed out that assets had reached an all-time level of $586,540,603, and deposits had reached a record high of $539,793,637. Profits increased by $237,987 to a total of $3,699,987, before taxes and depreciation, and the balance in the profit and loss account now stood at $1,214,741. The Bank's investments were valued at $222,545,105, an increase of $25,776,804, and loans totalled $246,951,189, an increase of $12,876,845.

Mr. Mackersy pointed out that Canadian farmers this year harvested an unprecedented wheat crop of 688,000,000 bushels, 24 per cent larger than the previous record crop of 1928. The oil industry continued to develop new wells and to intensify its exploration of the Western provinces. "It is quite within the realm of possibility that in the not too distant future, Canada will be self-sufficient in this important product", Mr. Mackersy stated.

Reviewing Canada's mining industry, Mr. Mackersy said that there had been no change for the better in the gold mining industry, but that non-ferrous metal production was slightly higher than last year. Aluminum production had increased noticeably, and would be up even more when the Kitimat project was completed. New uranium finds had been made and the refinery now being built might well be the world's largest. Development of the Quebec and Labrador iron ore deposits was continuing aggressively.

Value of Seed Cleaning Plants

There are seven municipal seed cleaning plants in operation in Alberta this season. These are at Camrose, Wetaskiwin, Morinville, Westlock, Marwayne, Vegreville and Mundare. Another is under construction at Rosebud. Weather conditions, and the availability of some materials may interfere with the completion of this plant, but it is anticipated that it will be in operation by New Years.

These plants are all equipped with first class machinery, and are capable of cleaning seed grain to highest grades. To be most useful in any community, says Mr. A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, they must operate from early fall until seeding is completed in the spring. By so doing they can clean up to 300,000 bushels during the season.

In past seasons, some of the plants have not been used to capacity during the fall season, but by late winter and spring they have not been able to take care of farmers' demands for cleaning; even when operating on a 24-hour basis. The result has been that some farmers have not been able to get their grain cleaned.

Mr. Wilson further advises that farmers should provide safe storage on their own farms for seed and take advantage of early cleaning and treating. By doing so a much larger quantity of good seed could be prepared annually.

To save additional handling, grain could be hauled directly from the combine for cleaning and treating then returned to the farm. Many difficulties encountered in attempting to clean or haul seed during winter or when roads are banned can be avoided by arranging to clean seed early. There is no necessity for any spring rush by making use of the seed plants now.

Farm Debt Reduction

The Winnipeg Free Press in a recent editorial dealt with the surprising degree of farm debt reduction in western Canada during the past fourteen years. It states that the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association, which held a large percentage of farm mortgage indebtedness in the prairie provinces in 1937, has given information on the reduction of this debt as follows:

	Debtors	Debt
	No. of
1937	56,745	$139,553,000
1951	13,862	31,693,000

The Free Press also stated that while the Farmers Creditors Arrangement act enabled some debt to be reduced, actual payment of cash by farmers was six times greater.

Dial Telephones

(From the Calgary Albertan)

Although Alberta Government Telephones has not been able to keep up with the unprecedented volume of telephone business, it is doing its level best. In some communities it is renovating its properties and modernizing its service in a most commendable fashion.

Take the installation of dial telephones, for instance. This was recently done in the town of High River. Now the change is being made in Taber. Although we don't know of any others, off-hand, no doubt there are or will be others. Alberta has many towns of the size and quality of these two.

Nevada's Raking It In

Twenty-one years ago, the big-area, small-population state of Nevada legalized gambling. There were a lot of outraged oohs and ahs at the time from foes of gambling all over the country, but Nevada went ahead with the experiment. How has it panned out?

A recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post carried a detailed answer to that question, under the title "What has Wide-Open Gambling Done to Nevada?", by Robert Laxalt. We found it most interesting.

Wide-open gambling, by this account, has done much more for Nevada than to Nevada.

The state was on its economic uppers when gambling was made lawful in 1931. Its famous mines had been just about mined out; it had no industries and few farms or cattle ranches.

Last year, the gaming-and-divorce town of Reno entertained about 3,000,000 tourists, who spent a total of $32,000,000 there. The gambling centre of Las Vegas had 2,500,000 tourists, who dropped $43,000,000 all told.

The two towns are becoming popular convention centres, too—15,000 delegates to 60 conventions in Reno last year, for example.

Since 1947, the state has been taxing the gambling industry in what seems to us a sensible way. It levies 2% on all gross gambling receipts, plus a sliding-scale table fee.

Altogether, the state makes about 20% of its entire tax income from gambling. And Nevada has only 165,000 people, is a fairly hard place to get to from anywhere else, and consists largely of desert and mountain country.

The State Tax Commission rides herd on the gambling establishments, and is confident that the big ones are honest. It can't say the same of the little places, but at least it keeps tabs on them as best it can.

There has been some trouble from outside gangsters moving in and trying to take over. But that difficulty is asserted to be coming under control now, as the Tax Commission works out ways to break up this attempted invasion.

We don't see how any public official outside Nevada can read this report without drooling over that 20% of painlessly collected revenue.

This goes particularly for states and provinces that depend on a nuisance retail tax to keep going.

"One Thing I Know"

They brought to the Pharisees the man who had formerly been blind. Now it was the Sabbath day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. The Pharisees again asked him how he had received his sight. And he said to them, "He put clay on my eyes, and I washed, and I see." Some of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath." But others said, "How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?" There was a diversion among them. So they again said to the blind man, "What do you say about him, since he has opened your eyes?" He said, "He is a prophet."

The Jews did not believe that he had been blind and had received his sight, until they called the parents of the man who had received his sight, and asked them, "Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?" His parents answered, "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; but how he now sees we do not know, nor do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him; he is of age, he will speak for himself." His parents said this because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if anyone should confess him to be Christ, he was to be put out of the synagogue. Therefore his parents said, "He is of age, ask him."

So for the second time they called the man who had been blind, and said to him, "Give God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner." He answered, "Whether he is a sinner, I do not know; one thing I know, that though I was blind, now I see."

Voice of the People

CBC AND TV

The Liberal Government's Television Policy as announced in Speech from the Throne will solidify the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's huge commercial monopoly. It shows clearly that the CBC is not a purely public service body. It pays no more than in service to the development of Canadian culture and Canadian talent. The announced policy permits CBC to establish by its own choice a monopoly on television in the commercially attractive areas; leaving remote and outlying areas to be served by non-government capital. Monopolies are undesirable, and, moreover, experience in Toronto has shown that the CBC's monopoly is driving the majority of Canadian viewers to United States programs. As the CBC's monopoly in other cities sets the same pattern, Canadian television set owners will be increasingly subjected to United States programs and influence, establishing habits that will be difficult to break when and if the CBC ever permits non-government television in these cities.

This policy places staggering power in the hands of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation; permitting it not only to maintain its present regulatory powers but to decide for itself in what area it will have a complete television monopoly. This policy will set back by years the provision of television programs that Canadians will look at; and the general development of the Canadian television industry. It also means that tax payers in all parts of Canada will be subsidizing development of the CBC monopoly in large metropolitan areas carefully selected by the CBC itself for their commercial value. That the CBC will not permit competition with its present or proposed television stations indicates the value it places itself on its own programming services and finally defines clearly its real aim of establishing a powerful commercial monopoly in large population centres, backed by tremendous powers of control.

TCA Purchase Aircraft From British Firm

MONTREAL—The purchase of fifteen Viscount aircraft from the British firm of Vickers-Armstrongs, on a delivery schedule which will make Trans-Canada Air Lines the first operator of turbine powered equipment on North American routes, was announced today by the Company's president, G. R. McGregor.

The Viscount, which is powered by four Rolls-Royce Dart engines, is the most recently developed medium range civil transport in the world. Production schedules at the Vickers-Armstrongs plants at Weybridge and Hurn, England, are being geared to deliver the first Viscount to TCA by the summer of 1954.

Purchase of the new Viscount fleet by TCA will involve an expenditure of approximately $11,500,000. According to the United Kingdom Board of Trade this is the largest dollar order placed with a single British Company since the end of the war.

The new aircraft will supplement TCA's fleet of DC 3's and North Stars on the Company's major intercity services. Their turbine engines will give high speed, vibrationless flight, with an exceptionally low cabin noise level.

Selection of the Viscount, added Mr. McGregor, has followed the most exhaustive analysis of its performance in comparison with that of other aircraft currently in production. The evaluation studies have extended over a period of more than eighteen months.

Designed to carry 48 passengers and cargo at cruising speeds in excess of 300 miles per hour, the Viscount will be fully pressurized to maintain low altitude comfort while flying above the weather at 20,000 feet. The 1400 h.p. Rolls Royce Dart turbine engines are among the latest development in aircraft power plants, providing smooth power by continuous rather than in the series of explosions which characterizes the conventional piston engine.

In the turbo-propeller engine the power is harnessed to a propeller, thus overcoming the inefficiency of the pure jet engine on short and medium range flights, and eliminating the necessity to fly at extremely high altitudes.

Acquisition of the Viscounts, said Mr. McGregor, represented one more step in TCA's program to keep its fleet expansion abreast of Canada's rapidly growing air traffic. In 1951, he pointed out, TCA's domestic passenger business increased by 18 per cent from the previous year. During the first nine months of 1952 there has been a further 14 per cent rise and every indication is for the trend to continue. Under the circumstances, TCA is taking steps to provide itself with a fleet of adequate proportions and the most modern types. Orders have already been placed for eight Super Constellations to be used on the overseas routes.

Fly-Slapping. Nets $5

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Doris Lott and her parents attended a cattle auction near their home at Cameron, Texas. The flies were particularly thick and Doris started slapping at them. Every time she slapped at a fly, the auctioneer interpreted it to mean that she was raising the bid on a calf. Finally, the calf was led over to a surprised Doris, who was informed her bid was $35. When the auctioneer learned of his mistake, he re-sold the calf for $40 and gave Doris the extra $5.

Not a Texan

They say it was a Texan-millionaire who threw a Riviera clam-bake at which champagne gushed from a "miniature oil well," but we wonder. The true Texas doesn't bother with miniatures.—The Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Ottawa To End Beef And Pork Support

OTTAWA—The expensive price support program of the Canadian government will likely end immediately following the lifting of the United States embargo on Canadian livestock next March 1.

It is expected that at the same time, the government will remove the ban against meat imports and permit resumption of the small Canadian trade in certain types of American pork cuts.

These two moves are in the offing as a result of the U.S. government's announcement that it will lift the embargo next March 1, provided there are no further outbreaks of hoof and mouth disease in Canada.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,
I have been going with a girl for about a year and think I am in love with her. She is very pretty and vivacious and I feel that I could be happy with her but for one thing. I am not sure of her and I can't feel that she would be true to me if I were away for a long time.

I come of a family where there was never any thought of husbands and wives not being faithful to each other but this girl's mother and father are divorced and married again. She doesn't have the same ideas about marriage that I have and thinks I am a bit old-fashioned.

Would you go on and take a chance with her or do you think the risk of unhappiness is too great?

Young Man.

Answer:
If I were a young man and considering marriage, the first thing I would look for in a wife would be loyalty and trust. Beauty is like icing on a cake—it adds to the whole enjoyment if the basic part of the cake is there, but, taken by itself, one soon has enough of it.

You are probably infatuated with this girl but if her only attraction for you at present is a physical one, you will be unwise to marry her. There is so much more to marriage than mere physical attraction—although I think that is an important part of life.

There is affection, tenderness, consideration, congeniality, and faith in each other. Physical attraction passes or dims as the years go by but these other factors become deeper and more abiding the longer two people, who begin with them, live together.

And what is beauty to one person may leave another one cold.
Some women who haven't one good feature, are adored by their husbands and are beautiful to these men because they love them.
Many who could star in the movies are unattractive to others.

So there is something to the old adage about beauty being only skin deep after all.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa,
The boy I am engaged to works in the same office with me and his salary is not very much larger than the one I get. But he will not let me pay for anything when we are on dates.

Don't you think this is foolish of him?
Answer:
Some young men get an inferior feeling when they let a girl share expenses and your friend is evidently one of these.

There are many ways in which you can help, however, even if they are not so obvious as coming up with cash when a bill is received. One of these is by having the young man to meals in your home or fixing up picnic lunchon occasions.

You may also have tickets which have been given you—even though the giver be a parent—to plays or other entertainments.
Louisa.

Lo. The Poor Farmer!

It is widely felt that a prosperous year for agriculture may be the key to the election. But it seems so unlike the farmer, even if he is better off, to admit it.—The Kansas City Star.

An International Weed Meeting

An International Weed Meeting which will bring together weed research workers, agricultural extension specialists, farmers, representatives of chemical and machinery companies, and others interested in weed work in the United States and Canada, will be held in Winnipeg on December 9, 10 and 11, 1952. This joint meeting of the North Central (States) Weed Control Conference and the Western Canadian Weed Control Conference will be one of the most important weed conferences ever held in Western Canada.

The Purpose. Modern weed control, particularly chemical weed control, involves highly specialized farm practices. Consequently, for real progress, it is essential that weed workers associated with the Universities, Government Experimental Stations, and commercial organizations in the United States and Canada get together to review, discuss, and appraise their work; pool their results; and make recommendations which will be of the greatest practical assistance and benefit to farmers.

Weed Problems. At the forthcoming weed conference the following aspects of weed control will receive especial attention. Chemical and cultural methods, weed control legislation, ways and means of getting weed information to farmers, effects of weed-killing chemicals on growing crops, brush control, trends in the application of herbicides, and special perennial weed problems. There will be a panel discussion on the control of "The Wild Oat."

Weed control conferences are valuable. Through them, Agricultural Representatives and other extension workers are able to keep abreast with modern developments and trends. They provide the essential basic information upon which depends the successful control of weeds right on the farm. The important recommendations of the 1952 International Weed Meeting will be presented later in "Seedtime and Harvest."

Lethbridge Mayor Heads Association Of Alberta Municipalities

At the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities held in Edmonton on Oct. 30 and 31, L. S. Turcotte, Lethbridge lawyer and mayor of the city, was elected president. He succeeds Mr. Lynch-Staunton of Didsbury. Mr. Turcotte is well known in public affairs throughout the province and was the Liberal candidate in the last federal election.

Tenor of the convention was set by the first four resolutions, all dealing with the financial plight of the municipalities. These asked substantial increases in government contributions to school costs, and that the present 25 per cent grant toward construction costs be increased. Delegates asked that the province establish a standard of school construction in order to keep it out of the realm of luxury; and also that the province lend schools the balance of capital costs of school construction at an interest rate of not more than 2 per cent.

Another of these resolutions asked that the provincial government set up a committee of representatives of the government, the municipal districts and the school boards, to work out a more equitable basis of sharing school costs, and to inquire into advisability of changing from a per room to a per pupil basis of making grants, and of differentiating between public and high school pupils. Mr. Turcotte cited figures to show that among seven Canadian cities in the 20,000 to 30,000 population class, Lethbridge ratepayers pay the highest per pupil cost, and that the provincial government in Alberta, though one of the richest in Canada, contributes the smallest percentage toward the cost of education.

The provincial government was also pressed to make provincial municipal grants unconditional and on a per capita basis and to give special consideration to communities whose populations are increasing at a disproportionate rate.

The hon. C. E. Gerhart, Minister of Municipal Affairs, addressed the convention, but while assuring delegates there would be increased municipal assistance he stated he could not see unconditional grants as any solution to municipal problems. He said the province's goal was to "spread the benefits of this wonderful province, not by handouts, but by a general easement of the burdens on all taxpayers, large and small."

Youthful Hunter Gets Heavy Bag

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont.—(BUP)—A teen-age hunter got his first hunting license this fall. And he accomplished more in his first hour in the bush than most hunters do in a season.

Fifteen-year-old Duffy, Cochran bagged a bear, three cubs and a buck, in his first 60 minutes.

His father, running to see what all the shooting was about, shot another bear.

Bangs Disease of Cattle

No. 7 in a series by Dr. E. A. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Calfhood Vaccination In Bang's-Free Herds

Already this year there have been several cattlemen in Alberta report abortion storms in their herds with a resulting loss of at least 50 per cent or more of the calf crop. This will mean a decrease in income to these men in a couple more years or so of hundreds or thousands of dollars. In one case, the decrease in gross income will be close to $10,000.00 because 32 cows lost their calves prematurely and they should have been sold as finished beef in two years at about $300.00 each.

This heavy loss could have been prevented by building up Bang's resistant herds through calfhood vaccination, starting four or five years ago. Now it is too late to prevent the loss of the calf crop. These cattlemen will have their calves vaccinated from now on to help clean up the herd. Naturally, the neighbors with clean herds are worried and wish they had also started calfhood vaccination a few years ago.

Cattlemen with herds free from Bang's disease should be taking active steps to prevent loss of calf crops in the years to come. Calfhood vaccination is urged in these to build up a herd with a resistance against the disease. It is the cheapest form of insurance available to cattlemen to protect their incomes. Owners of clean herds have been in many cases indifferent to calfhood vaccination. That was a mistake. Remember, too, that the disease can be spread to humans in whom it causes undulant fever.

Contact your veterinarian to have him vaccinate your heifer calves, or list them with your District Agriculturist or Agricultural Service Board.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture recommends calfhood vaccination coupled with good herd management as an economical and practical way to prevent and control the disease. The co-operation of all cattlemen will be greatly appreciated in building up Bang's resistant herds by having all heifer calves vaccinated this fall.

Grassland News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. B. Kritze and family motored to Edmonton last week on a business trip, returning the same day. On the return trip they were accompanied by Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Kanzig, who had been visiting her daughters in Edmonton.

Miss Sophie Cernicki of Thorhild has been visiting her two sisters here, Mrs. Ray McKenzie and Mrs. John Dytiuk.

Mrs. Lem McKenzie is in hospital at Athabasca.

Mr. Mafk Guy has been undergoing medical treatment in Edmonton.

Mr. Frank Babcock has gone to Kinuso to see his father.

Mr. Jimmy Jenkins of Bon Accord was visiting in Grassland for a day or two, and on leaving took his mother with him for a little holiday. She has been staying with her eldest daughter, Mrs. Pearl Coverly, and is confined to a wheel chair. In spite of her age, the lady still knits mitts for all her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

On the way to Boyle today, Nick Derko and Ira McKenzie were electrified to see a "flying saucer." Nick reports that he had already seen one in the same vicinity last week while returning from Calgary.

Mr. Pete Prodeniuk of Redwater is busily engaged buying turkeys in Hlushaks' old store.

Mr. Romeo Hurtubise has returned from his trip down east, where he went to see a brother who is seriously ill. His daughter, Melba, who lives in Toronto, met him at Ottawa, and they went on to Montreal to visit a younger brother and other relatives. Mr. Hurtubise also spent a few days at his son's home in Moose Jaw. He says he still likes the west best, and was glad to get back to Edmonton, where he visited his two youngest daughters before returning to Grassland.

On Tuesday an agricultural meeting for men only was held in the Community Hall at Grassland. Main speaker was Mr. Godeff, District Agriculturist, with a Ukrainian speaker also in attendance. Subject chosen by the speakers was "Live Stock Breeding."

Fred Johnson suffered quite a severe loss on Tuesday when his logging camp on the Athabasca River was destroyed by fire. Besides clothing, blankets, etc., a power saw was also lost in the flames. The fire occurred in the afternoon while the logging crew was at work in the bush. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sworin on the birth of a baby girl in an Edmonton hospital.

Ukrainian Greek Orthodox service was held in the Anglican Church at Grassland on Thursday. After the service a business meeting took place at the Semeniuk home. Lunch was served by Mrs. Semeniuk to the members attending.

'53 DODGE

Illustrated—Dodge Regent 4-door sedan includes certain extra equipment items. Check with your local Dodge dealer for information on standard equipment.

new beauty

In style and beauty, you'll find that the '53 Dodge is new and finer in many ways. It has that long, wide, low look that draws admiring glances. Graceful, sweeping fenders and the broader, lower rear deck lend a touch of continental styling. There's a new type of one-piece curved windshield and an attractive new wrap-around rear window which give you better vision. You'll like the smart, new instrument panel with its central glove compartment for easy access. The beautiful new interiors and rich new colours add a further note of elegance to the finest Dodge cars ever produced in the low-price field.

finer performance

When you take the wheel of this stylish, more compact Dodge, you'll quickly discover that, in performance, too, Dodge is new and finer. You'll find that this new Dodge handles with astonishing lightness and ease—clings surely to curves—parks without effort. On the highway, you'll experience finer performance and easier acceleration at higher speeds—result of the new higher gear ratio. And with Overdrive (available at extra cost) your highway driving becomes even smoother and more economical.

Arrange to get behind the wheel and put the new Dodge through its paces.

new 3-way smoother ride

When you drive a new Dodge, you'll find a 3-way smoother ride... steadier... more level... softer. You'll agree it's the most comfortable ride you've ever experienced in any car at a comparable price.

It's a steadier ride because of a wider frame, a lower centre of gravity, and the new positioning of the wider rear springs.

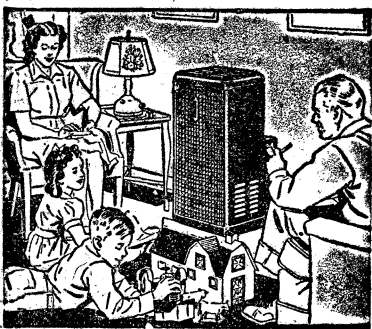

It's a more level ride, the result of synchronized springing and scientific weight distribution.

It's a softer ride because of "Oriflow" shock absorbers and wider, softer springs.

Be among the first to experience this thrilling new ride. Phone your Dodge-DeSoto dealer for a demonstration.

FAT BOY'S DIET

Interesting Facts About Reducing

By ELMER WHEELER

It's startling the things you learn about any subject when you really take it up seriously.

Your double chin, for example, has enough stored-up energy in the form of fat to keep you walking two days without food.

Moving around fast burns up more calories than moving slowly—which is the trouble with us fatties. The fatter we get, the slower we move—except when the dinner bell rings.

Skinny is jumping around all the time. No wonder he's thin. He moves fast, is always on the alert, thinks all the time, sleeps little burns up energy minute after minute.

Hot breads, I learned, fatten you no faster than cold bread. It's the quantity and the content that fatten you.

Rye, whole wheat and other such breads are often more fattening than white bread, which may lack something rye and whole wheat have and, therefore, be less fattening.

You can take your drinks or leave them as far as I'm concerned; but if you do drink because of social necessity, or plain desire, here is some information I picked up:

Often you can drink your calories faster than you can eat them. All alcoholic drinks have calories!

They are useless calories. They do little for you. They are for fun only.

Many concoctions vary in their calorie content. This is important to know, especially if you plan to go on a Lost Weekend.

It is necessary to be able to tell the calories in drinks at a glance. Especially after a few of them, when you aren't in a counting mood any longer.

I studied a lot on this, looking for a simplified method of "know-how," so that calories could be counted quickly and easily, right in front of Joe, the bartender, or at the home of a giggling friend.

I finally arrived at this method: That for every "proof" you add a calorie.

Scotch is 86 proof, so that means for each ounce you get 86 calories.

Bonded bourbons are 100 proof—that means 100 calories. Find the proof—and you find the calories per ounce.

The above way to count alcoholic calories may not be accurate to a calorie, may vary five one way or the other, but it is near enough.

Warning: This count is for straight drinks only, or those in soda or "ditch water."

When you add gin and ale, soda pop—anything in the sweet line—you'd better add up about another 65 calories, depending on the size of the glass.

It's the "sweet" that adds the calories. Even at a rough drinking party, sugar stays its same sweet self.

Beer is 200 calories a bottle. Ale 300 calories! And bock beer—put down that glass. Bock beer is 370 calories!

A bottle of beer and a bottle of buttermilk are about the same in calories, with 200 each.

Dry wines in an average wine glass have about 75 calories.

The bride looked very charming in a white dress with a floor-length veil. The dress was lace topped with nylon net over a satin skirt. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

She had five bridesmaids, all dressed in pink. They were: Miss Alexandra Nakoneckny of Grassland; Miss Mary Semashkovich of Spruce Valley; Miss Susan Berezuik of Willard Flat; Miss Veronica Spila of Willow Flat and Miss Jean Duban of Spruce Valley.

The happy couple were showered with confetti as they came out of the church doorway. They then went to Semitone Studio in Boyle to take portraits. A reception followed in the Boyle Hall for about 200 guests.

The brides' table was decorated beautifully. After the usual toasts were given and the tables cleared away, presentations followed. Many beautiful gifts were received, and also a large sum of money.

The dance started at 10 p.m. with Joe Hutsel's orchestra supplying the music. There was a large crowd, and midnight lunch was served.

Bennett Bars Office Boozing

VICTORIA, (BUP) — The traditional Christmas parties will be dry affairs in government offices in Victoria, the Social Credit government has ruled.
Premier W. A. C. Bennett barred liquor from all offices and ordered civil servants to quit work at noon Dec. 24 instead of the usual 5 p.m. closing.

If you want to do anything permanent for the man, you must begin before he is a man. The chance of success lies in working with the boy, and not the man.

Seek Same Pay Cheque If Hours Shortened

EDMONTON—The annual convention of the Industrial Federation of Labor for Alberta heard charges from delegates that the Provincial Government caused inequalities detrimental to labor by instituting the 44-hour week in the four major cities.

Delegates said that the decrease in working hours had, in most instances, meant a reduction of four hours' pay. The convention then passed a resolution urging the Government to maintain take-home pay at any future reduction of working hours.

The Workmen's Compensation Board was asked to investigate the possibility of establishing vocational schools to rehabilitate workers who cannot follow their original occupation.

In another resolution the Government was requested to establish a Labor department and a Labor Minister. The Labor and Industries portfolios now are combined under one minister.

CAMEL PROBLEM

A wealthy Egyptian by his will left half of his 17 camels to his first son; one-third of the 17 camels to his second son; and one-ninth of the 17 camels to his third son.

They pondered over this matter not knowing how to share their bequeathed camels, so they asked a learned man to figure out the tangle.

He gave one of his camels to the bunch, making 18 camels in all... then he took half of the 18 camels which is nine camels for the first son; one-third of the 18—six for the second son; and one-ninth of the 18 which left two camels for the third son. Then he took his camel back! $9 + 6 + 2 = 17$ camels... the number bequeathed to them in the first place. (Simple as eating pie!)

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Seldom Shoot Fish

Last year a pair of Alabama deer hunters were sorely disappointed to find that their favorite guide had deserted them to serve visiting fishermen instead. "What's the matter? Don't you like hunters?" one of them asked. "Like 'em first rate." "Do fishermen pay more?" "Nope." "Then what's the idea of taking up with them?" "Friend," the veteran woodsman replied. "I just got plump tired of being shot at for a deer. So far, ain't nobody mistook me for a fish."

Taking Advice

Hoping to inspire his workers with promptness and energy, a Canadian business man hung a number of signs reading "DO IT NOW" around his factory and office.

When he was asked some weeks later how his staff had reacted, he shook his head sadly.

"I don't even like to talk about it," he said. "The head bookkeeper eloped with the best secretary I ever had; three typists asked for an increase; the factory hands decided to go on strike and the office boy joined the navy."

Patience

A man had been waiting patiently in the post office, but could not attract the attention of either clerk behind the counter.

"The evening cloak," explained one of the girls to her companion, "was a redingote design in gorgeous lama brocade with fox fur and wide pagoda sleeves."

At this point the long-suffering customer broke in with:

"I wonder if you could provide me with a near purple stamp with a dinky perforated hem. The tout ensemble deliberately treated on the reverse side with mucilage. Something at about 3 cents."

The Woman of It

Banker—What can I do for you?
Mrs. Jones—I—ah—would like to get a little loan on the $25 I paid down on my car.

Lesson In Basic English

A Navy lieutenant at a South Sea Island station undertook to give an old native a lesson in basic English. He pointed at a Marine and said "man".

The native dutifully repeated. "Man."

That gave the volunteer teacher a thrill. He went on and pointed to a palm tree. "Tree," he announced. The native echoed, "tree." That certainly was progress.

Just then a plane roared overhead. The lieutenant thought he'd give the native the first chance this time. "What," he asked, pointing upward.

"I'm not sure," said the native, as he stood up and squinted at the plane, overhead. "It looks like a PB2Y, but it might be a B-24"

Mrs. Newlywed—Deposit? Why nothing! I want to draw out forty dollars.

While playing with my sister Ruth, five years old, I asked her how many apples she would rather have—one or ten. She said one. I asked her why, and she said: "Because I can eat one, but I can't eat ten!"

During a recess period at school my younger brother, along with several lower grade pupils, were talking about what they would like to be when they grew up. The teacher being near by also listening in, noticed my brother hadn't mentioned anything so asked him what he was going to be when he grows up. Without thinking twice he replied, "a man." Teacher didn't have a word to say to that!
